

Falcons - Homework Grid – Spring 2026
Topic: Pre-History
Daily Practise – Reading, Spellings, Probes

English			Maths
Visit your local library. Find and read a book about the Stone Age .	Story map Create your own story map. Remember the key events below. Remember to include - Beginning, build-up - Dilemma, resolution - ending Share it with your class.	Stone Age Charades Take turns acting out Stone Age activities while others guess. Ideas: Hunting, making fire, Cave painting, Fishing, gathering berries, Building a shelter	Numbers Practise writing numbers as words. Ask a family member to check your work.	Timetables Practise your times tables. Use objects around your home to make equal groups and count in multiples, for example, Lego, pasta, cars, or spoons.	Counting Practise counting forwards and backwards to 20. Complete a number line from 1 to 20 and from 20 to 1. Challenge yourself further by counting forwards and backwards beyond 20.
Make a fact sheet about what you found out. Share it with your class.	Read your reading book to a grown-up. Can they ask you some questions about what you have read?	Use your spelling words to write sentences. Extension – can you make your sentences silly?	Missing Punctuation Game Ask a grown-up to write a sentence without punctuation. Can you add the capital letter and full stop in the correct places?	Practise finding 1 more and 1 less. Choose a playing card and say the number that is 1 more and 1 less than the number shown. For an extra challenge, say what is 10 more and 10 less. Can you then work out 100 more/less, 1,000 more/less, and even 10,000? more/less?	Roll two dice and compare the numbers. Say which number is greater, which is smaller, or if the numbers are equal. Challenge: Count the dots on each die. Which die has more dots? Which has fewer? Can you work out the difference between the two numbers?
Topic			Social Skills & Life Skills
Find out some historical facts about an old/the oldest place or building near where you live. Can you discover when it was built, who used it, and why it is important today?	Talk with a relative about places they have travelled to or places they would like to visit in the future. Ask them questions about the countries, cities, or landmarks they have seen, or why they would like to travel there.	Talk with your family about different celebrations and why they are important to people. These could include birthdays, weddings, religious festivals, national celebrations, or cultural events.	Watch your favourite TV show with a member of your family. Talk about what happened and what they thought of the programme. Would they watch it again?	Go for autumn walks around the park. Look for the signs of autumn. Take photographs of the signs. Send them to your teacher.	Play a game with your family or friends that requires teamwork. Work together, take turns, listen to each other's ideas, and help each other to achieve a goal.
If you were a caveperson, what foods would you hunt or forage for? Make a list of foods you might find, hunt, catch, or gather. Challenge: Sort your foods into two groups: Hunt and Forage . Can you explain which foods would be easier or harder to find?	How many different types of rocks can you identify in your garden or local park? Look carefully at the rocks you find and compare their colours, sizes, shapes, and textures. Challenge: Make a list or draw pictures of the different rocks you find. Can you sort them into different groups?	Draw a picture that shows what makes you special and unique. You might include your hobbies, talents, favourite activities, family, friends, or things that are important to you.	Practise recalling and writing your home address from memory. Can you remember all the important parts correctly?	Can you plan a route from your home to the nearest shop or park? Draw a simple map showing the roads, paths, and landmarks you would pass on the way.	Can you write a list of foods or draw a picture of a healthy, balanced packed lunch? Challenge: Can you explain why each food is a healthy choice? Try to include foods from different food groups to make your lunch balanced and nutritious.

Phonics

When you practise your spellings at home, highlight the 'sounds of the week' on the words